

June 28,

Dear Lucia

You will be surprised not to see us today but Anne is so poorly she does not think it prudent to come. She got a very bad cold yesterday and has a sore throat, pain in the limbs, and headache, if she is well enough we shall come in tomorrow, you must wait she says till she comes, and not be alarmed if she should not come tomorrow, for she will not run the least risk. I send the gown for Debora you must get it off by Hatch this afternoon will be the first chance I suppose, we are all pretty well, as well as the weather will let us be.

Pray take care of Grandy and give my love to all the children. You cant imagine where Francis is, we have seen nothing of him but expect him some today.
ever yr E & W.

Don't open the box,
Only Dickman's things are in it.
